

Efficient Governance

efforts have developed early to use systems to facilitate citizens in:

- Obtaining birth and death certificate
- Registering the marriages with the civil
- Obtaining health insurance

Govt. of India has taken the registration of Birth and Deaths act, 1969, as a step towards making it all the states to record Births and Deaths in the country. Complete, timely and accurate registration of Births and Deaths is crucial for understanding the population dynamics and planning effective development programs. India's long history under birth and death registration provides the basis for robust governmental and regional certificate in partnership with the office of the Registrar General of India. Through this system, India has emerged as one of the countries for consistent registration and certification. This provides immense benefit for a citizen who has to obtain the documents for various governmental and private establishments.